GRAND.
Some would say it is horning in. Others would say it was resource. Still others might call it nerve. You might say it was head work, but anyway, Mae Marsh puts over a good one when, with only one silver dollar in her stocking, she slips into a beautiful home, stays there as long as she wants to, gives happiness to scores of workers by her pleasing personality and cops off the wealthiest man in the city for her husband. Sure, it's a "Glorious Adventure." Mae Marsh will be seen at the Grand tonight in this clever, happy play.

When you speak of marriage you always bring up the world's oldest problem. Gladys Brockwell, the emotional Fox actress, in "The Call of the Soul," is given full sway to present her wonderful talents in this problem play, which asks the question, "Shall a woman reveal her past to her husband, or shall she keep it a secret?" "The Call of the Soul" has its answer. This picture will be shown Thursday and Friday nights at the Grand theater. An airplane will have a test when its jizzes Fatty Arbuckle around in "Fatty the Aviator." Fatty indulges in the great army sport, aviating, Thursday and Friday.

LIBERTY.
If you would like to seek a delightful picture, go see Mary Pickford in "Caprice" at the Liberty theater Thursday only.
Mercy is a child of moods - we laugh with her, and as suddenly check ourselves as we see the cloud pass over her face. We are treated to a hearty laugh in the beginning when Jack Henderson, a young hunter, is treed by a tame bear. Mercy appears and calls off the animal, which then

This is the prelude to an absorbing story which rises to great dramatic heights during its developments.

SAGE RAT POISON
RECIPE IS GIVEN

The following recipe for preparing poison, given by R.A. Ward of the First National bank, has been found highly effective:
Mix one tablespoonful of gloss starch in one-half teacup of cold water and stir into one-half pint of boiling water to make a thick, clear paste. Mix one ounce of powdered strychnine (alkaloid) with one ounce of baking soda (bicarbonate) and stir with the starch to a smooth, creamy mass, free of lumps. Stir in one-fourth pint of heavy corn syrup and one tablespoonful of glycerine, and finally one scant teaspoonful of saccharine. Four tablespoonfuls of table salt added to the boiling water before making the starch increases the effectiveness of the poison during the growing season. Apply to 20 quarts of oats and mix thoroughly to coat each kernel.

Each quart of poisoned grain is sufficient for 40 to 60 baits. This quantity, scattered (one teaspoonful to a place) along squirrel trails, or on clean, hard surfaces near the holes, will not endanger stock.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FOR SUNDAY, MARCH 10, 1919: This year, you often act as though you're the most confident person in the world. This stature is natural for you. Your intuition guides you. If single, you have many potential suitors from whom to choose; however, remember to have a concept of the type of relationship and person you desire. If attached, you seem to enjoy conversation and company with your sweetie. At times, you could find that squabbles break out. Let them go; accept your differences. You could move or remodel your home. In that situation, your relationship will renew. GEMINI knows how to trigger you — and does!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★ You might opt to make today a lazy day. Unfortunately, your immediate circle might not know of this plan and could be reaching out for you. Screen calls. Follow your instincts with an older person. Tonight: Order in.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ Be willing to look beyond the obvious. Some of you might need to totally escape the here and now by going to the movies or taking a day trip — whatever clears your mind and allows you to think. Tonight: A partner inspires you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
